ASIAN UNIVERSITIES ALLIANCE
STAFF EXCHANGE PROGRAM
REPORT
2018-2020
Foreword

As Secretary of the Asian Universities Alliance (AUA), I have the honor to present to you the first AUA Staff Exchange Program Report 2018-2020.

The AUA is a university alliance established in 2017 by fifteen founding members from across Asia. The mission of AUA is to “jointly address regional and global challenges, specifically related to higher education and economic, scientific and technological development, by strengthening collaboration among member institutions.” AUA acknowledges and promotes shared identity and values in working towards this mission.

The AUA Staff Exchange Program (AUASEP) was established in April 2018, under the category of Staff Mobility in the first AUA Framework 2017-2020. Each year, the program provides financial support for up to fifteen staff of AUA member universities or the AUA Secretariat to carry out a one-week visit to another overseas AUA university or the Secretariat.

This report provides an insight into the development of the program since its launch in 2018. In the first two years of operation, 2018-2019 and 2019-2020, twenty-six staff from thirteen AUA member universities have undertaken their exchange visits. While this report aims to publicize the program and its outcomes so far, the AUA Secretariat also intends to utilize the gathered information to shape and reshape the future progress and growth of the program.

AUA strives to set a regional and global example by highlighting the value of this kind of exchange between our member universities. AUA understands that administration personnel provide the backbone and foundation of any institution and we recognize this by investing in their professional development. Immersing staff in the working culture of another institution allows them to gain first-hand knowledge and experience of different working procedures and methods in partner universities. These visits provide ample opportunity for exchanging best practices of university administration and increasing collaboration between AUA members. The AUASEP has directly encouraged the signing of several bilateral agreements between members, and inspired proposals for AUA student mobility programs and research collaboration.

I invite you now to witness the outcomes of the AUASEP from 2018-2020 in the report ahead.

Thank you.

Introduction

Since the onset of the Asian Universities Alliance (AUA) in April 2017, increasing mobility and enhancing exchanges between member universities has been at the forefront of the AUA mission. AUA strongly advocates for meaningful and frequent exchanges between staff members to boost prospects of cooperation and deepen understanding of existing programs as well as operational and managerial procedures between member institutions. In order to propel the mission forward, the AUA Staff Exchange Program (AUASEP) was developed as a mobility program specifically for the staff of AUA member universities. Mobility of students, scholars and staff is one of the four foundational pillars of the AUA Framework 2017-2020.

Investing in staff plays a pivotal role in the success of educational institutions’ adaptation to new global trends. The AUASEP was launched in 2018 to enhance communication between staff of AUA member universities through a week-long immersive visit at another AUA member institution or the AUA Secretariat. These visits help provide a platform for exchanging best practices, enriching knowledge, and improving coordination and mutual understanding between and among AUA members. The AUASEP has a knock-on effect to other areas of mobility with a number of visits resulting in the establishment of new student and scholar initiatives such as sports and cultural activities and collaboration among AUA libraries.

The AUASEP also serves to strengthen the bond between the AUA Secretariat and staff of the member universities, facilitating the proposal of new ideas while nurturing lasting friendships in the process. With the success of this initiative, AUA aims to set an example for the importance of staff exchanges in the success of higher education. As AUA moves forward, the AUASEP serves as a noteworthy platform to expedite increased mobility and greater cooperation among member universities.

About the Report

The AUASEP is operated and managed by the AUA Secretariat. All the data presented in this report has been gathered from the application and summary materials submitted to the AUA Secretariat by awardees of the first two years of the program: 2018-2019 and 2019-2020. All the data contained herein is true and correct to the best of the provided information.

The time frame for visits in the first year of the program was between 1 June 2018 and 31 March 2019. It will be referred to throughout the report as Year 1.

The time frame for visits in the second year of the program was between 1 June 2019 and 31 March 2020. It will be referred to throughout the report as Year 2.

In certain cases, in order to incorporate all corresponding offices in home and host universities into related groups, specific labels have been given.

For example, the International Office label represents various AUA members’ offices that are responsible for international matters of the university, such as Office of International Affairs, International Relations Office, Global Relations Office, etc.

The Office of Senior University Leadership label represents various AUA members’ offices of senior university leadership, such as Office of the President, Vice Chancellor’s Office, Office of the Provost, etc.

The Student Affairs label represents various AUA members’ offices/departments that are responsible for student matters such as Student Housing and Residential Life Office, Student Activity Centre, etc.

The information of AUA Exchange Staff, including their home and host universities and summaries of visits, can be found in the second half of the report.

Notes

- Home University refers to the university at which the candidate is a full-time staff member.
- Home Office/Department refers to the university office or department at which the AUA Exchange Staff is ordinarily based.
- Host Institution refers to the university (or AUA Secretariat) which the AUA Exchange Staff shall visit.
- Host Office/Department refers to the university office or department at which the AUA Exchange Staff will carry out their visit.
- As the AUA Secretariat is an entity separate from the 15 AUA members, it is considered in the data as both a host institution and a host office.
- Participants in the program will be titled throughout the report as AUA Exchange Staff or Staff.
- As per the application guidelines (see Appendix 1), part 3c states:

> "Applications for the year of 2019-2020 are for applicants who wish to visit the host office/department between 1 June 2019 and 31 March 2020, i.e., the starting date of the visit shall be no earlier than 1 June 2019 and the completing date of visit shall be no later than 31 Mar 2020."

All visits had been originally scheduled to take place within the time frame stated in the guidelines. Due to the outbreak of COVID-19, the validity of one Exchange Staff’s visit which was due to take place in early 2020, has been extended until 30 September 2020, after the publication of this report in May 2020. Her application data has been included for the year 2019-2020; however, the summary of her visit will feature in next year’s report.

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19, this candidate has extended the validity of her visit until 30 September 2020.
“I felt that my visit to The University of Tokyo (UTokyo) was well worth it. I gained valuable experience that can be implemented at Nazarbayev University (NU). In addition, I learned new methods that may help to improve our future services. The networking experience was very beneficial. I was able to speak with UTokyo administrative personnel and a student who provided tips and useful information for my work projects.

IT management was a topic of special interest and necessity for me, as NU is enhancing Information Services (IS) through IS transformation. In addition to themes related to IS, it was insightful to learn about UTokyo’s current internationalization project, unique undergraduate system, active learning approaches, scholarships for international students and the university’s entrepreneurship and innovation ecosystem.

During a fruitful meeting with Prof. Ohara, I was introduced to the most advanced campus – Komaba – which is home to several schools with advanced research facilities and campus services. Several years ago, the 21 Komaba Center for Educational Excellence was established, which houses studio-type classrooms and laboratories with state-of-the-art equipment designed to facilitate active learning. NU and UTokyo are on the same page in regards to Active Learning (AL) development. Both universities pay solid attention to the ergonomic design of classrooms, furnishing them with all necessary IT equipment and distributing newsletters/booklets about AL. We also face the same issues, e.g. how to attract faculty members to use AL classrooms more frequently.

During the visit, NU students were cordially invited to the Asian Entrepreneurship Award 2019. In turn, our NU team would like to invite Prof. Kagami to NU to deliver a lecture/speech or conduct a formal meeting with related administrative divisions. I have a strong hope for further active communication between UTokyo and NU.

My overall impression is that UTokyo’s important mission is to go far beyond only delivering the best education and preparing future-ready professionals. Other universities can learn a lot from UTokyo’s valuable experience. The visit program was well organized and the speakers provided valuable information. In addition to professional development, I had a chance learn more about Japanese culture.”

-Dana Nurtazina

“Ms. Dana Nurtazina, who was accompanied by several colleagues, visited UTokyo from 1-5 July. Meetings with various groups within UTokyo, including staff and faculty members, were arranged for them based on the visit request provided by NU prior to the visit. We were pleased to hear that she learned a lot while visiting our university.”

-Hiroko Nakano (Host)
Schedule of visit

A scene from the wrap up meeting
“I had the privilege to be the first AUA Exchange Staff to be hosted by the International Office at University of Colombo (UoC). Dr. Sashika Manoratne, the Director of the International Office, and Ms. Kalhari Perera were very hospitable and brief me about academic and internationalization strategies at UoC. We discussed developing academic cooperation between our universities and agreed to sign bilateral agreements on academic and student exchanges. I visited the Faculty of Arts, Faculty of Management and Finance and the Post Graduate Institute of Medicine and had discussions with the respective Deans/Directors of the faculty/institute. We had a detailed discussion and both sides agreed to deepen the cooperation between UoC and Universiti Malaya (UM) through student and faculty mobility.

I had an interesting visit to Sri Palee Campus which is about 2 hours’ drive from UoC. This campus offers programs similar to UM, such as Bachelors in Drama, Music, Dance, Arts and Design. It would be one of the best options for student mobility programs. Meeting with the Registrar Mr. K.A.S Edward was extremely informative as he shared information on the governance and administration of UoC. I also had the chance to visit the main library and was given a tour of all the facilities.

The visit ended with me sharing some of UM’s best practices with UoC’s Vice Chancellor Prof. Chandrika Wijeyaratne and the top management of the university. It was a very interesting session as we managed to share ideas and exchange experiences on how student mobility is managed at our universities.

My visit was very fruitful in terms of learning, practical experience and networking. UM hopes to sign an MOU with UoC and will offer two scholarships to UoC students to participate in the summer program at UM. We hope with this initiative we will have active student mobility in the future.”

-Vigneshree King

“Vigneshree King’s visit was a success. Her experience and exposure on internationalization and student/staff mobility enriched not only us at the International Office, but all the administrative and non-academic staff members of the whole university. The informative presentation she gave to the Vice Chancellor and the administrative personnel about the internationalization process of the UM was very inspiring.”

-Sashika Manoratne (Host)

Presentation on 'Best Practices of UM' to management of UoC
Yerbolat Assylbek

Home: Nazarbayev University (Office of the Provost)
Host: United Arab Emirates University (Office of Institutional Effectiveness)
Date of Visit: 1-12 Sep 2019

The trip to UAEU was valuable in terms of new perspectives, ideas and valuable experience gained. My main focus was to learn how the Institutional Research Unit functions and operates and I had a chance to see an overall picture of UAEU and the Office of Institutional Effectiveness.

Khin Mar Cho

Home: University of Yangon (Dept. of Chemistry)
Host: Chulalongkorn University (Dept. of Chemistry)
Date of Visit: 21-27 Aug 2019

Not only was I able to get some experience about modern instrumental techniques, but also about the characterization of nanoparticles. This exchange provided knowledge, skills and career opportunities, while building links between different research institutes.
Siti Salwati Fadzli

Home: Universiti Malaya (Office of the Deputy Vice Chancellor)
Host: Universitas Indonesia (International Office)
Date of Visit: 19-23 Aug 2019

I learned from the team how to manage the internationalization activities more effectively. We shared some of the best practices that we can adopt to improve our internal processes such as managing the mobility programs for both staff and students and data management.

Gamage Nishadhi Dimalka Haththotuwa

Home: University of Colombo (Vice Chancellor’s Office)
Host: Peking University (International Relations Office)
Date of Visit: 17-23 Sep 2019

During the visit, I observed that the student identity card is one of the best practices used at Peking University. I wrote a memo about this for UoC’s Vice Chancellor and submitted it to the university’s management committee. I also had the chance to assess future cooperation between PKU and UoC.
Yoori Kim

Home: Seoul National University (Office of International Affairs)
Host: Chulalongkorn University (Dept. of Korean Studies)
Date of Visit: 24-28 Jun 2019

This program allowed me to concentrate on the international affairs job, attract the best faculty and students to SNU, support and understand administrative procedures and build great places to learn and grow.

Tin Yan Ma (Michelle)

Home: The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (Student Housing and Residential Life Office)
Host: Seoul National University (Gwanak Residence Halls’ Office)
Date of Visit: 25-29 Nov 2019

Even though there are cultural differences between our universities which lead to different management styles, the missions and values of our offices are almost the same. I gained a better understanding of various aspects of student halls management including planning, cooperation between student leaders and staff, cultural exchange and environmental policies.
Saori Mukaimachi

Home: The University of Tokyo (External Relations Department)

Host: Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (Office of International Relations)

Date of Visit: 16-20 Sep 2019

I discussed with the Continuing Education and Quality Improvement Program members regarding the prospects of recurrent education in Japan. I interviewed two lecturers and seven participants and could understand the current activities, strategies and participants needs.

Hrushikesh Mahindranath Nagwekar

Home: Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (Dept. of Biosciences and Bioengineering)

Host: Universiti Malaya (International Relations Office)

Date of Visit: 24-28 Jun 2019

The main objectives of the visit were to become familiar with the teaching and research laboratories, to explore high end instrumentation and to learn and share experience on the administration of laboratories. The visits to various centers and facilities broadened my knowledge and provided me with necessary administration experience and a possible bridge for collaborative research work.
Fitriyatun Ni’mah

Home: Universitas Indonesia (International Office)
Host: National University of Singapore (Global Relations Office)
Date of Visit: 29 Jul-2 Aug 2019

The whole visit was valuable for me, professionally and personally. One of the top outcomes was getting to know the Global Relations Office. Learning about their involvement in international associations and how to run short courses were key take-aways.

Kalhari Perera

Home: University of Colombo (International Office)
Host: AUA Secretariat
Date of Visit: 23-27 Sep 2019

The AUA Staff Exchange Program gave me a wonderful opportunity for my career development and capacity building. It’s very important to encourage the mobility of administrative staff to enhance their innovative thinking and capabilities in order to elevate the status of higher education institutes.
Prabhakaran Ramasamy

Home: Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (Student Activity Center)
Host: Nazarbayev University (Sports Complex Management)
Date of Visit: 14-18 Oct 2019

I was impressed by NU’s intent to go beyond their national borders in terms of sports research and training within their campus. The inclusive approach towards utilizing NU’s sports facilities and setting up of a sports research center are definitely take away points to help my own professional activities at IITB.

Sanjay Shah

Home: Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (Main Administration Office)
Host: Peking University (International Relations Office)
Date of Visit: 17-23 Sep 2019

The contributions for knowledge sharing made by each and every pillar of PKU was outstanding. It gives me a new angle to understand the overall system in a different dimension of university administration.

"I visited Chulalongkorn University’s (CU) Office of International Affairs and Global Network, Faculty of Economics and Office of the President during my stay. I received in-depth knowledge on activities handled by the Office of International Affairs on MOUs, student exchange programs, faculty and staff exchange programs, overseas visits or visits by foreign guests and global network activities. I witnessed the signing of an MOU between CU and Victoria University in Canada. I took part in discussions with the Head of International Relations, MOU coordinators, ‘One Stop Center’ coordinators and the staff exchange coordinator.

The staff exchange coordinator of CU’s Global Network Center deals with the coordination of disbursement of the budget for international conferences among the faculties. The faculty determines a theme of the conference from a list of topics decided by the university. Visiting scholars and visiting professors’ placements requests are also coordinated in this office. These visits involve joint teaching or research activities at the respective faculties. The requests for staff exchanges are referred to line officers at the respective faculties.

At the Office of International Affairs and Global Network, I learned about CU’s HR procedures in detail. The job description and qualifications are first submitted to the university’s HR office by the Director of the Office of International Affairs and Global Network. CU’s HR office short lists and calls applicants for the interview. The Director of the Office of International Affairs and Global Network and Assistant to the President for International Affairs are part of the selection committee.

At the Faculty of Economics, I was given an overview of the faculty by their International Office staff. I visited the Faculty of Economics’ Dept. of Human Resources and the library. I had a discussion with the Dean and the Head of the International Office.

Based on the knowledge gained from my visit to CU, I hope UoC can strengthen the International Office and achieve a similar status in the future. This visit has given me a vision to develop our university to similar standards. I wish to thank CU’s Office of International Affairs and Global Network for hosting me during the stay.”

-Gamage Manuja Yasangika Dannangoda

“Ms. Dannangoda is very friendly and adjusted herself very well. She is active and enthusiastic to learn about different work which will possibly enrich her job responsibilities at UoC. I am confident that spending a week at CU will be one of her best working experiences and contribute to the fruitful relationship between UoC and CU.”

“I was given an introduction to the AUA Secretariat’s operations and the duties of the staff. The member universities are split between the full time staff and each acts as liaison officer. In turn, they each manage individual programs along with finance, policy and media. I gained a better understanding of what each operation entails and the workload of each member. We discussed UAEU programs, what has been done so far and clarified all pending queries.

We also discussed AUA program management and shared productive ideas, including creating a checklist for each program and for the host university, creating action plans and evaluation forms for various student programs (the latter which I created and sent to AUA), and how to further improve the website.

I also had the chance to meet with Tsinghua University's Global Communications Office to see how they work and bounce ideas and best practices off each other. I also visited the Tsinghua University Science Park and x-lab to see how they operate and to discuss potential future collaborations.

The Staff Exchange Program was very helpful as it gave me more insight about how the AUA Secretariat works and we were able to exchange practices to be implemented in both of our work. It also strengthened our relationship and by the end of the period I felt that I was one of the team.”

-Nada Seifelnasr

“Nada offered many valuable suggestions for the better development of AUA. Nada and the Secretariat staff introduced the university financial regulations to each other, which helped to establish a good understanding of how to best handle AUA-related financial issues. Nada also gave an informative talk on UAE culture and higher education to staff at the Office of International Cooperation and Exchange.”

Visiting Tsinghua University Science Park
DongHyeon An

Home: Seoul National University (Library)
Host: Tsinghua University (Library)
Date of Visit: 28 Oct-3 Nov 2018

I participated in the AUA Library Directors Dialogue and talked with other AUA library directors about further cooperation. Through the document delivery service agreement with THU Library, we have enhanced cooperation between our universities.

Lui Ling (Linda)
Cheng

Home: National University Singapore (Global Relations Office)
Host: AUA Secretariat
Date of Visit: 17-21 Dec 2018

The program was immensely beneficial in deepening my understanding of alliance management. I also visited THU’s offices of Global Partnerships, Study Abroad and General Administration. I also had the opportunity to deliver a presentation about NUS. These meetings were a great way to enhance mutual understanding of our institutions.
Chai Kun (Judy) Choong

Home: Universiti Malaya (International Office)
Host: AUA Secretariat
Date of Visit: 15-19 Oct 2018

As the person-in-charge of managing UM’s participation in AUA, the exchange presented an opportunity for me to get a better picture of how other member universities have been participating in the alliance, and to evaluate how UM can enhance its participation in this network.

Arnab Das

Home: Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (Office of Dean International Relations)
Host: Universiti Malaya (International Relations Office)
Date of Visit: 10-14 Dec 2018

My visit was very fruitful in terms of learning, practical experience and networking. We discussed academic cooperation between our universities and agreed to sign bilateral agreements on academic and student exchanges.
Alfrida Esther Madame Hutapea

Home: Universitas Indonesia (International Office)
Host: AUA Secretariat
Date of Visit: 24-28 Sep 2018

It was interesting to learn how several functions currently carried out by the Office of the President at NU are executed by different units at NUS. It was helpful to learn how NUS uses data for strategic planning, promotion of faculty and reporting to stakeholders.

Banu Myrzatay

Home: Nazarbayev University (Office of the President)
Host: National University of Singapore (Global Relations Office; Office of the President)
Date of Visit: 1-5 Oct 2018

Formal and informal information sessions were arranged so I could have a better understanding of AUA programs and operations. Observing how the staff complete their tasks and interact with AUA members gave me a deeper understanding of the values and goals of AUA.
Aray Saniyazova

Home: Nazarbayev University (Office of the President)
Host: Seoul National University (Office of Planning and Coordination)
Date of Visit: 19-23 Nov 2018

The objective of the visit to SNU was to gain exposure and better understanding of the programs, operation and management of different departments of the university. I am excited about sharing what I have learned with my colleagues at NU.

Miras Sharipov

Home: Nazarbayev University (Dept. of International Cooperation)
Host: AUA Secretariat
Date of Visit: 15-19 Oct 2018

It was valuable to understand that at the stage of formation of AUA, there were many questions that could only be resolved collectively. Yet, different understanding of the norms means that there are a variety of views and opinions. There can be no single correct answer to any of the issues and challenges.
Xin Song

Home: Peking University (Office of Provost)
Host: The University of Tokyo (Management Planning Department)
Date of Visit: 28 Oct-4 Nov 2018

I learned about some educational characteristics of UTokyo, especially liberal arts education. I visited various offices and gained knowledge on professional teaching, international cooperation and faculty development which is of great significance to Peking University.

Kunzhu Zhang

Home: Tsinghua University (Library)
Host: Seoul National University (Library)
Date of Visit: 12-21 Aug 2018

Every experience of this visit was helpful and valuable to me. The exchange and communication with SNU Library colleagues will definitely promote the later AUA document delivery program and other cooperation.
